In your response to Item 8.I., do not include the regular salary you pay to an employee.

In responding to Items 8.H. and 8.I., consider all cash and non-cash compensation that you or a related person gave to (in answering Item 8.H.) or received from (in answering Item 8.I.) any person in exchange for client referrals, including any bonus that is based, at least in part, on the number or amount of client referrals.

Item 9 Custody

In this Item, we ask you whether you or a related person has custody of client (other than clients that are investment companies registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940) assets and about your custodial practices.

- A. (1) Do you have custody of any advisory clients': Yes No
- (a) cash or bank accounts? ☐ ☒
- (b) securities? ☐ ☒

If you are registering or registered with the SEC, answer "No" to Item 9.A.(1)(a) and (b) if you have custody solely because (i) you deduct your advisory fees directly from your clients' accounts, or (ii) a related person has custody of client assets in connection with advisory services you provide to clients, but you have overcome the presumption that you are not operationally independent (pursuant to Advisers Act rule 206(4)-2(d)(5)) from the related person.

- (2) If you checked "yes" to Item 9.A.(1)(a) or (b), what is the approximate amount of client funds and securities and total number of clients for which you have custody:

U.S. Dollar Amount	Total Number of Clients
(a) $ 0	(b) 0

If you are registering or registered with the SEC and you have custody solely because you deduct your advisory fees directly from your clients' accounts, do not include the amount of those assets and the number of those clients in your response to Item 9.A.(2). If your related person has custody of client assets in connection with advisory services you provide to clients, do not include the amount of those assets and number of those clients in your response to 9.A.(2). Instead, include that information in your response to Item 9.B.(2).

- B. (1) In connection with advisory services you provide to clients, do any of your related persons have custody of any of your advisory clients': Yes No
- (a) cash or bank accounts? ☐ ☒
- (b) securities? ☐ ☒

You are required to answer this item regardless of how you answered Item 9.A.(1)(a) or (b).

- (2) If you checked "yes" to Item 9.B.(1)(a) or (b), what is the approximate amount of client funds and securities and total number of clients for which your related persons have custody:

U.S. Dollar Amount	Total Number of Clients
(a) $ 0	(b) 0

- C. If you or your related persons have custody of client funds or securities in connection with advisory services you provide to clients, check all the following that apply:

- | | |
| (1) A qualified custodian(s) sends account statements at least quarterly to the investors in the pooled investment vehicle(s) you manage. | <input type="checkbox"/> |

| (4) An independent public accountant prepares an internal control report with respect to custodial services when you or your related persons are qualified custodians for client funds and securities. | <input type="checkbox"/> |

If you checked Item 9.C.(2), C.(3) or C.(4), list in Section 9.C. of Schedule D the accountants that are engaged to perform the audit or examination or prepare an internal control report. (If you checked Item 9.C.(2), you do not have to list auditor information in Section 9.C. of Schedule D if you already provided this information with respect to the private funds you advise in Section 7.B.(1) of Schedule D).

- D. Do you or your related person(s) act as qualified custodians for your clients in connection with advisory services you provide to clients? Yes No
- (1) you act as a qualified custodian ☐ ☒
- (2) your related person(s) act as qualified custodian(s) ☐ ☒

If you checked "yes" to Item 9.D.(2), all related persons that act as qualified custodians (other than any mutual fund transfer agent pursuant to rule 206(4)-2(b)(1)) must be identified in Section 7.A. of Schedule D, regardless of whether you have determined the related person to be operationally independent under rule 206(4)-2 of the Advisers Act.

- E. If you are filing your annual updating amendment and you were subject to a surprise examination by an independent public accountant during your last fiscal year, provide the date (MM/YYYY) the examination commenced:

Item 11 Disclosure Information

In this Item, we ask for information about your disciplinary history and the disciplinary history of all your advisory affiliates. We use this information to determine whether to grant your application for registration, to decide whether to revoke your registration or to place limitations on your activities as an investment adviser, and to identify potential problem areas to focus on during our on-site examinations. One event may result in "yes" answers to more than one of the questions below. In accordance with General Instruction 5 to Form ADV, "you" and "your" include the filing adviser and all relying advisers under an umbrella registration.

Your advisory affiliates are: (1) all of your current employees (other than employees performing only clerical, administrative, support or similar functions); (2) all of your officers, partners, or directors (or any person performing similar functions); and (3) all persons directly or indirectly controlling you or controlled by you. If you are a "separately identifiable department or division" (SID) of a bank, see the Glossary of Terms to determine who your advisory affiliates are.

If you are registered or registering with the SEC or if you are an exempt reporting adviser, you may limit your disclosure of any event listed in Item 11 to ten years following the date of the event. If you are registered or registering with a state, you must respond to the questions as posed; you may, therefore, limit your disclosure to ten years following the date of an event only in responding to Items 11.A.(1), 11.A.(2), 11.B.(1), 11.B.(2), 11.D.(4), and 11.H.(1)(a). For purposes of calculating this ten-year period, the date of an event is the date the final order, judgment, or decree was entered, or the date any rights of appeal from preliminary orders, judgments, or decrees lapsed.

You must complete the appropriate Disclosure Reporting Page ("DRP") for "yes" answers to the questions in this Item 11.

Item 12 Small Businesses

The SEC is required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act to consider the effect of its regulations on small entities. In order to do this, we need to determine whether you meet the definition of "small business" or "small organization" under rule 0-7.

Answer this Item 12 only if you are registered or registering with the SEC and you indicated in response to Item 5.F.(2)(c) that you have regulatory assets under management of less than $25 million. You are not required to answer this Item 12 if you are filing for initial registration as a state adviser, amending a current state registration, or switching from SEC to state registration.

For purposes of this Item 12 only:

- Total Assets refers to the total assets of a firm, rather than the assets managed on behalf of clients. In determining your or another person's total assets, you may use the total assets shown on a current balance sheet (but use total assets reported on a consolidated balance sheet with subsidiaries included, if that amount is larger).
- Control means the power to direct or cause the direction of the management or policies of a person, whether through ownership of securities, by contract, or otherwise. Any person that directly or indirectly has the right to vote 25 percent or more of the voting securities, or is entitled to 25 percent or more of the profits, of another person is presumed to control the other person.

(2) controlled by or under common control with another person (other than a natural person) that had total assets of $5 million or more on the last day of its most recent fiscal year?

Advisory Business

Conestoga Capital Advisors, LLC (“CCA”) was founded in 2001 and is primarily owned by Robert M. Mitchell, Duane R. D’Orazio, Mark Clewett and Joe Monahan. CCA offers investment management services on a discretionary or non-discretionary basis to individuals and associated trusts, estates, and charitable organizations, pension and profit-sharing plans, banks or thrift institutions, investment companies, and other corporations or business entities. Such services will be provided within the guidelines formulated by clients, in pursuit of investment objectives outlined by each client.

As of December 31, 2023 CCA managed $7,190,433,919 on a discretionary basis on behalf of approximately 261 clients and approximately $628,397,226 on a non-discretionary basis for 5 clients.

CCA provides non-discretionary advisory services to certain institutional investment managers (“investment manager”) through an investment model service, which includes but is not limited to:

- A list of holdings and each holding’s appropriate weighting
- Access to the portfolio managers of the investment models via telephone, email or in person meetings.

Fees and Compensation

Investment management fees are based on a percentage of assets under management and are collected quarterly in advance. A client may elect to be invoiced for fees or have fees directly debited from the client’s custodial accounts. Payments for invoiced fees are due within thirty (30) days of receipt of bill. The following rates are used to determine annual fees based on client assets at the time a new account is opened. The initial rate shall remain in effect unless specifically revised under the terms of the advisory agreement.

Equity Portfolios:

1.00% up to $25,000,000
Negotiated over $25,000,000

Fixed Income and Balanced Portfolios:

Negotiated

The fee shall be paid quarterly at the commencement of each calendar quarter, based on the value of assets as of the beginning of such quarter. The first billing shall be calculated on the market value of the assets at the close of business prior to the effective date of management. Should the time span be less than a calendar quarter, the fee will be prorated based on the actual number of days the account was managed by CCA. If assets added or subtracted to the account exceed 10% of the market value of the account before assets are added or subtracted, or if such a transaction exceeds $50,000, whichever is greater, an adjustment will be made to reflect these additions or subtractions to the assets under management used for calculating the amount to be billed.

From time to time, CCA may enter into alternative fee arrangements, primarily with institutional clients that will be negotiated on a case-by-case basis. Certain managed accounts may request to be billed in arrears based on the value of assets at the close on the last day of the quarter or on the daily or monthly average asset value in accordance with the client's investment management agreement. Additionally, CCA may provide investment advisory services for a fixed fee in limited circumstances.

The quarterly fees for the investment model services are based on the percentage asset allocation (the "Asset Allocation Percentage"), on the date as of which the fee is calculated, to CCA's investment strategies selected by the investment manager and each client. The quarterly fee is paid in advance and is equal to the product of (i) the Asset Allocation Percentage, times (ii) the fair market value (determined by the investment manager) of the assets invested in each client account, valued on the date as of which the fee is calculated, times (iii) the percentages fee agreed to between CCA and investment manager.

In addition to CCA's investment management fees, clients bear trading costs and custodial fees. To the extent that clients' accounts are invested in mutual funds including money market funds, these funds pay a separate layer of management, trading, and administrative expenses.

There are no termination dates in CCA's contracts. Either CCA or the client may terminate with thirty days written notice. The thirty-day notice requirement may be waived or negotiated at CCA's discretion. Any advisory fees paid in advance by clients that terminate intra-quarter will be refunded based on the number of days the account was open during the quarter.

Investors generally may redeem/withdraw from the Fund by providing written notice to Adviser. The Fund's governing documents specify how soon an Investor's redemption/withdrawal will take effect after notice is received (e.g. 90 days after notice is received). In each case, redemptions/withdrawals will be subject to significant conditions and restrictions (e.g. restrictions on the amount that may be redeemed/withdrawn, timing and method of payment of such redemption/withdrawal, redemption/withdrawal fees) which are also set forth in the relevant Fund's governing documents. Redemption/withdrawal requests are irrevocable.

CCA does not receive compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products. However, Mr. Clewett, Mr. Riggs and Ms. Dewey are Registered Representatives of ACA Foreside and may recommend mutual funds that pay commissions (including 12(b)-1 fees, "trails", or other compensation) from the product sponsor, CCA. CCA and ACA Foreside monitor Mr. Clewett's, Mr. Rigg's and Ms. Dewey's activities to mitigate any actual or potential conflicts of interest. CCA clients that are invested in the Conestoga Funds are not billed an additional advisory fee on the assets invested in the Conestoga Funds.

Performance Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

CCA does not charge performance fees nor does it intend to in the immediate future.

Types of Clients

CCA primarily provides customized investment supervisory services to individuals and associated trusts, estates, and charitable organizations, pension and profit-sharing plans, banks or thrift institutions, investment companies, and other corporations or business entities. In addition, CCA provides sub-advisory services to a collective trust and separate account relationships. CCA may also provide sub-advisory services to registered investment companies

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

CCA generally uses an investment process based upon fundamental business and credit analysis; capital structure and liquidation analysis, a review of all legal documentation surrounding an issuer's securities and identification of an investment catalyst.

In making its investment decisions, CCA will rely on internally generated research, derived from annual reports, prospectuses, filings with the SEC, corporate press releases, inspections of corporate activities, conversations with the firm and/or competitors, financial newspapers, magazines and other sources. CCA may also use research materials prepared by others in making an investment decision. During the research process, CCA makes an assessment, of the quality of the security in question by examining among other things financial metrics of the relevant company, the integrity and strategic vision of the management team and the ability to execute such strategy, as well as the attractiveness and risks of the company's industry.

CCA reviews companies that meet its criteria, and if according to CCA's analysis a company has the potential to appreciate at least 100% over a three-to-five year period then CCA will make a decision to buy the security. Client portfolios are fully invested and diversified across industries. CCA will allow successful companies to grow while attempting to control portfolio risk and will remove companies that fail to meet CCA's expectations. Performing this combined qualitative and quantitative approach to stock selection encompass the majority of CCA's daily activity

Investing in securities is inherently risky. An investment in individual securities or in a portfolio of securities could lose money. The investments selected by CCA should be deemed speculative investments and are not intended as a complete investment program. These types of investments are designed for sophisticated investors who fully understand and are capable of bearing the risk of loss of their entire investment. CCA cannot give any guarantee that it will achieve its investment objectives or that any client will receive a return of its investment.

An investment in a Fund also entails a high degree of risk and is suitable only for sophisticated institutions and individuals for whom an investment in a Fund does not represent a complete investment program. An investment in a Fund requires the financial ability and willingness to accept the substantial risks and lack of liquidity inherent in such investment. Investors in a Fund must be prepared to bear such risks for an indefinite period of time. Prospective Investors to a Fund should carefully review the applicable governing documents. Prospective Investors are also encouraged to consult their own legal, investment, tax, and other advisers, and the applicable offering documents, as to whether an investment in a Fund is appropriate for them.

Bankruptcy of a broker or custodian could cause excessive costs or loss of investor funds. If a broker with whom CCA has an account becomes insolvent or bankrupt, CCA may be unable to recover all or even a portion of the assets maintained by clients with that broker. Similarly, if a custodian housing a client's securities or other assets becomes bankrupt or insolvent, the client may be unable to recover all or even a portion of the assets held by the custodian.

CCA may fail to identify successful companies. Identifying undervalued securities and other assets is difficult, and there are no assurances that such a strategy will succeed. Furthermore, clients may be forced to hold such investments for a substantial period-of-time before realizing any anticipated value.

Investing in small and micro-cap companies entails unique risks. The value of small and micro-cap company securities may be subject to wider price fluctuations and may be difficult or impossible to sell. Low trading volume in a company's securities means that CCA may have to sell holdings at a discount from quoted prices or make a series of small sales over an extended period-of-time. In addition, small and micro-cap companies may generate less information on which to base investment decisions. Small and micro-cap companies are often subject to risks related to lack the management experience, lack of financial resources, reliance on a single product and the inability to compete with better capitalized companies with more experienced managers.

Cyber Security Breaches and Identity Theft

With the increased use of technologies such as the Internet and the dependence on computer systems to perform business and operational functions, portfolios and their service providers may be prone to operational and information security risks resulting from cyber-attacks and/or technological malfunctions. In general, cyber-attacks are deliberate, but unintentional events may have similar effects. Cyber-attacks include, among others, stealing or corrupting data maintained online or digitally, preventing legitimate users from accessing information or services on a website, releasing confidential information without authorization, and causing operational disruption. Successful cyber-attacks against, or security breakdowns of, CCA, any of its investment funds/clients or a custodian, or other affiliated or third-party service provider may adversely affect a fund/client and its investors. For instance, cyber-attacks may interfere with the processing of transactions, affect a fund's ability to calculate net asset value, cause the release of private investor information or confidential information, impede trading, cause reputational damage, and subject the fund to regulatory fines, penalties or financial losses, reimbursement or other compensation costs, and additional compliance costs. Cyber-attacks may render records of assets and transactions, ownership of the shares or interests, and other data integral to the functioning of the fund inaccessible or inaccurate or incomplete. The funds/accounts may also incur substantial costs for cyber security risk management in order to prevent cyber incidents in the future. The funds/accounts and its investors could be negatively impacted as a result. CCA has adopted a disaster recovery plan designed to limit the impact of any business interruption or disaster. Nevertheless, our ability to conduct business may be curtailed by a disruption in the infrastructure that supports our operations and the regions in which our offices are located. In addition, our advisory activities may be adversely impacted if certain service providers to CCA or our clients fail to perform. While CCA has established a disaster recovery plan and maintains systems designed to prevent cyber-attacks, there are inherent limitations in such plans and systems, including the possibility that certain risks have not been identified. The funds/accounts rely on third-party service providers for many of its day-to-day operations and will be subject to the risk that the protections and protocols implemented by those service providers will be ineffective to protect the funds/accounts from cyber-attack.

Business, Terrorism and Catastrophe Risks

Clients will be subject to the risk of loss arising from exposure that Clients may incur, indirectly, due to the occurrence of various events, including hurricanes, earthquakes, and other natural disasters, terrorism and other catastrophic events such as a pandemic. These catastrophic risks of loss can be substantial and could have a material adverse effect on the Firm's business and Clients' portfolios including investments made by the Firm.

Disciplinary Information

CCA and its employees have not been involved in any legal or disciplinary events in the past 10 years that would be material to a client's evaluation of the company or its personnel.

Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

CCA serves as the investment adviser to the Conestoga Small Cap Fund, Conestoga SMid Cap Fund, Conestoga Mid Cap Fund and Conestoga Micro Cap Fund each a diversified series of the Conestoga Funds, a registered investment company. As investment adviser, CCA receives an investment management fee from the Conestoga Funds. CCA clients that are invested in the Conestoga Funds are not billed an additional advisory fee on the assets invested in the Conestoga Funds. As discussed above, Mr. Clewett, Mr. Riggs and Ms. Dewey are Registered Representatives of ACA Foreside and may recommend mutual funds that pay commissions (including 12(b)-1 fees, "trails", or other compensation) from CCA, the product sponsor. Additionally, CCA manages the Conestoga Small Cap Growth Collective Fund and the Conestoga SMid Cap Growth Collective Fund. ACA Foreside monitors Mr. Clewett's, Mr. Rigg's and Ms. Dewey's activities to mitigate any actual or potential conflicts of interest.

Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

CCA and related persons have a financial interest in the Conestoga Funds, which may be recommended to advisory clients. CCA may buy or sell for itself (or CCA's "Supervised Persons," including officers, directors, employees and other persons providing investment advice on behalf of CCA, may buy or sell for their own accounts) securities that are recommended to clients. CCA has adopted a policy for its Supervised Persons prohibiting transactions for their personal accounts in securities CCA intends to purchase or sell on behalf of clients on that same day. CCA reviews and retains copies of monthly statements and confirms of brokerage accounts maintained by Supervised Persons of CCA.

To avoid any potential conflicts of interest involving personal trades, CCA has adopted a Code of Ethics, which includes formal personal trading and insider trading policies and procedures. CCA's Code of Ethics requires, among other things, that Supervised Persons:

- place the interest of their clients first
- conduct all personal securities transactions in a manner consistent with the Code of Ethics
- avoid any actual or potential conflict of interest or any abuse of the individual's position of trust and responsibility
- adhere to the fundamental standard that employees should not take inappropriate advantage of their positions

CCA's personal trading policies require Supervised Persons to report personal securities transactions on at least a quarterly basis and provide CCA with a detailed summary of certain holdings (both initially upon commencement of employment and annually thereafter) over which such Supervised Person has a direct or indirect beneficial interest.

A copy of CCA's Code of Ethics shall be provided to any client or prospective client upon request.

Brokerage Practices

CCA is given trading authorization by its clients to purchase or sell certain types of securities, within specified limitations, as agreed upon from time to time with its clients. The broker-dealer to be used may or may not be specified by the client. Where the broker-dealer is the custodian, CCA may or may not execute a trade away from the broker. CCA will suggest broker-dealers and/or custodians to clients who request such recommendations. Clients have the final choice as to selection of both broker-dealer and custodian. In selecting or recommending broker-dealers, CCA does not consider client referrals received from broker-dealers.

CCA seeks to obtain the best net price and the most favorable execution of orders. Although CCA does not expect to use only one broker-dealer, CCA may, in its discretion, effect transactions in clients' securities with broker-dealers who provide supplemental investment research or other services ("soft dollars"), even though a lower commission may be charged by another broker-dealer who does not offer such supplemental investment research or other services. The term "soft dollars" refers to a means of paying brokerage firms for products and services through commission revenue, based on the volume of brokerage commission revenues generated from securities transactions executed through brokers by an investment manager on behalf of advisory clients. Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended allows CCA to pay broker-dealers more than the lowest commission available in order to obtain research and brokerage services without breaching its fiduciary duties to clients or imposing a duty upon CCA to obtain the lowest commission if certain conditions are met and CCA makes a good faith determination that the commissions paid are reasonable in relation to the value of the brokerage or research services on behalf of its advisory clients. The determination may be viewed in terms of either the particular transaction involved or the overall responsibilities of CCA with respect to the accounts over which it exercises investment discretion. In determining if something is research, thus falling within the safe harbor provisions, the controlling principle is whether it provides lawful and appropriate assistance to the money manager in the performance of its investment decision-making responsibilities.

These soft dollars include advice, either directly, or through publications or writings, as to the value of securities, and availability of securities or purchasers or sellers of securities; furnishing of analyses and reports concerning issuers, securities or industries; providing information on economic factors and trends; assisting in determining portfolio strategy; providing computer software used in securities analysis; and providing performance evaluation and technical market analysis; and providing quotation services from certain stock exchanges. During the last fiscal year, CCA received the following research products and services through soft dollar arrangements: FactSet Research Systems Inc., Furey Research Partners, Bloomberg L.P., DataTrek Research and MSCI. FactSet is a leading provider of global financial and economic information, including fundamental financial data on tens of thousands of companies worldwide. Furey Research Partners offers integrated small cap strategy analysis. Bloomberg L.P. provides a financial information platform, which includes, global financial data, equity trading platforms and portfolio analytical tools. DataTrek Research, market research service with unconventional market data and insight. MSCI provides company specific ESG information and analysis. CCA reviews regularly the commission rates being paid on average to determine their reasonableness and reviews the research services received.

Soft dollar benefits furnished by broker-dealers through which CCA effects securities transactions may be used by CCA in servicing various clients, and not all such services will necessarily benefit all clients. Information so received will be in addition to and not in lieu of the services required to be performed by CCA and investment management fees are not reduced as a result of the receipt of such supplemental research information.

Research services received from broker-dealers are supplemental to CCA's own research effort and, when utilized, are subject to internal analysis before being incorporated by CCA into its investment process. Thus, a potential conflict of interest exists between the interest of CCA, who is receiving an economic benefit in the form of research services, and the interests of the clients whose accounts pay commissions.

The following factors, among others, may be considered when performing CCA's periodic and systematic evaluation of its brokerage arrangements and the execution quality of client trades. Factors: Liquidity of the securities traded, ability to place trades in difficult market environments, research services provided, client direction, execution facilitation services provided, infrequency and correction of trading errors, expertise as it relates to specific securities, ability to access as variety of market venues and business reputation.

If a client elects to direct brokerage to a specific broker-dealer, the client may pay a higher commission because the client cannot take advantage of blocked rates. In addition, in the event that the client directs CCA to use a particular broker-dealer, CCA may be unable, under those circumstances, to negotiate commissions, obtain volume discounts or best execution. In addition, under those circumstances, there may be disparity in commission charges between clients who direct CCA to use a particular broker-dealer and clients who give other directions.

When possible, CCA will make an effort to block trades if such aggregation is reasonably likely to result in an overall economic benefit to clients based on an evaluation that they will be benefited by relatively better purchase or sale prices, lower commission expenses or beneficial timing of transactions, or a combination of these and other factors. The decision to block trades may influence the choice of broker-dealer and the effect those trades may have on commission rates. In many instances, the purchase or sale of investments for clients will be affected simultaneously with the purchase or sale of like investments for other accounts or entities. Such transactions may be made at slightly different prices, due to the volume of securities purchased or sold. In such event, the average price of all securities purchased or sold in such transactions may be determined, at CCA's sole discretion, and the client account may be charged or credited, as the case may be, with the average transaction price.

Accounts are generally categorized as Home (Directed Brokerage) and Away (Discretionary Brokerage) at CCA. CCA maintains a trade rotation policy between Home and Away accounts to ensure that all client accounts are treated in a fair and equitable manner and to prevent favoritism between accounts or groups of accounts. Non-Discretionary – (UMA or Model Account) program orders will be last in the trade rotation with orders being entered after Discretionary Orders have been completed. From time to time, situations may arise where CCA may be required to deviate from this trade rotation policy. In such instances, any deviation to this trade rotation policy will be reviewed and approved by the CCO.

Prior to execution, CCA generally formulates allocations on trade tickets, except in cases where CCA unexpectedly learns of investment opportunities and completing such written allocations proves unreasonable. If the entire order is filled, Clients receive their portion pursuant to the initial allocation. In the event, that an order is “partially filled,” the allocation shall generally be made on a random basis, subject to all relevant factors, including, but not limited to, the size of each Client’s allocation, minimum ticket charges, Clients’ liquidity needs and previous allocations. In most cases, accounts will get a pro-forma allocation based on the initial allocation. This policy also applies if an order is “over-filled,” such as when a new issue designation is greater than CCA had initially allocated.

As it pertains to the allocation of Initial Public Offerings (“IPOs”), CCA uses the same random allocation policy as for partially filled orders. When CCA transacts in IPOs (or other limited investment opportunities) for Clients, CCA takes into account cash availability and need, suitability, investment objectives and guidelines, and other factors deemed appropriate in making investment allocation decisions.

Sensitive allocation issues arise when CCA is given the opportunity to participate in an offering that is expected to be over-subscribed, or to purchase a limited position in a security that might be appropriate for multiple Clients. Since hot issue premiums provide the potential of an immediate profit and since CCA may typically receive only a small portion of the allotments sought, CCA will exercise particular care in the allocation of these securities.

CCA maintains a trading error account whereby gains and losses resulting from certain client trading errors are netted against each other. It is CCA’s policy that trading errors, when due to its employees’ actions, must be corrected at no cost to clients.

Review of Accounts

All investment advisory accounts are reviewed by at least one of the following individuals: Robert M. Mitchell, Joseph F. Monahan, Derek Johnston, , David R. Neiderer, Ted Chang or Duane R. D’Orazio, not less than quarterly. All such accounts are reviewed for their adherence to the firm’s investment policies and strategies and specific security ownership, all within the context of specific client guidelines and objectives. Reviews may also be undertaken because of changes in market conditions, changes in investment policies and strategy and changes in securities positions.

Client assets are held in custody by qualified custodians, usually a bank, brokerage firm, or trust company. Custodian statements are the primary source of information concerning activities in client accounts. The custodian and client determine the frequency of the distribution of these reports. Additionally, CCA provides clients with periodic, usually quarterly, portfolio evaluations including summaries of portfolio changes, income received, and additions and withdrawals from accounts. At client meetings, supplemental information is provided as may be requested by the client or which may be deemed relevant to the client at the time. Periodically, clients are also provided with reports on investment policy, or analyses of specific sectors of the capital market, or investment and economic trends.

For additional information regarding the types and frequency of reports provided to Clients, please see the relevant offering documents or investment management agreement or other similar agreement, as applicable.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation

As discussed under Brokerage Practices, CCA may receive soft dollar research services from broker-dealers used by CCA.

From time to time, CCA may compensate individuals, corporations or other entities for soliciting new separate accounts or proprietary mutual funds. Certain of CCA's employees who refer or help solicit investment advisory clients to CCA are compensated on the basis of a percentage of the advisory fees paid by such referred clients to CCA. The arrangements have no effect on the gross fee charged to the client and will comply with all relevant Federal and state laws, including Rule 206(4)-3 under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. At this time, CCA does not have any client referral relationships with outside entities.

Custody

All clients' assets are held in custody by unaffiliated qualified custodians, either broker/dealers or banks. However, CCA can access many clients' accounts through its ability to debit advisory fees. For this reason, CCA is considered to have custody of client assets. Account custodians send statements directly to the account owners on at least a quarterly basis. In addition, a Managing Partner of CCA serves as trustee for certain clients, therefore CCA is considered to have custody of those client assets. The account custodians send statements directly to the account owners on at least a quarterly basis and these accounts are subject to an annual surprise verification by an independent public accountant.

Clients should carefully review custodian statements and should compare these statements to any account information provided by CCA.

Investment Discretion

For accounts handled on a discretionary basis, CCA typically has the authority to determine the securities and the amount of securities to be bought and sold without obtaining client consent to specific transactions. All discretionary authority is limited to the client's account(s) managed by CCA and is evidenced by the limited power of attorney in the investment advisory agreement and the custodian's account application.

The Company is not obligated to acquire for any account any security that the Company or its officers, partners, members or employees may acquire for its or their own accounts or for the account of any other client, if in the absolute discretion of the Company, it is not practical or desirable to acquire a position in such security.

CCA's discretionary asset management clients will acquire securities which are the subject of the investment models prepared by CCA. CCA maintains internal procedures for ensuring that all clients are treated fairly. The following policies and procedures have been adopted by CCA with respect to the potential conflict that may arise between managing asset management client accounts and selling investment models to other investment managers.

1. CCA will, absent specific client restrictions, purchase for its discretionary asset management clients the securities that are included in the investment models provided to model service clients.
2. CCA will treat all model service clients fairly and equitably. The model / UMA program is a non-discretionary relationship and all related trades will go last in the trade rotation.
3. To ensure fair and equitable treatment between all model service clients, CCA has implemented a trade recommendation rotation process amongst the clients.
4. Noting that CCA's discretionary asset management clients may have restrictions placed on their accounts, it is possible that CCA may act on behalf of its discretionary asset management clients in a contrary manner to the recommendations provided in the investment models.

Voting Client Securities

Among the services we provide is that we vote proxies on your behalf. CCA's Proxy Administrator is charged with identifying the proxies upon which CCA will vote, voting the proxies in the best interest of clients, and submitting the proxies promptly and properly.

Our policy is to vote your proxies in the interest of maximizing shareholder value. To that end, CCA will vote in a way that it believes, consistent with its fiduciary duty, will cause the issue to increase the most or decline the least in value. Consideration will be given to both the short and long-term implications of the proposal to be voted on when considering the optimal vote.

CCA uses Broadridge, a third-party proxy voting service provider, to assist in the proxy voting process. The Proxy Administrator will ensure that Broadridge receives proxy voting materials directly from the broker-dealers/custodians.

Absent specific client instructions, the Proxy Administrator votes client proxies through Broadridge according to the Glass Lewis recommendations.

If CCA's Proxy Administrator determines that he or that CCA is facing a material conflict of interest in voting your proxy (e.g., an employee of CCA may personally benefit if the proxy is voted in certain direction), our procedures provide for a Proxy Voting Committee to convene and to determine the appropriate vote. Decisions of the Committee must be unanimous. If a unanimous decision cannot be reached by the Committee, a competent third party will be engaged, at our expense, who will determine the vote that will maximize shareholder value. As an added protection, the third party's decision is binding.

Our complete proxy voting policy and procedures are memorialized in writing and are available for your review. In addition, our complete proxy voting record is available to our clients, and only to our clients. Please contact CCA if you have any questions or if you would like to review either of these documents.

If "Class Action" documents are received by CCA for a private client (i.e., separate managed account), CCA will forward such documents to the client to enable the client to file the "Class Action" at the client's discretion. The decision of whether to participate in the recovery or opt-out may be a legal one that CCA is not qualified to make for the client. Therefore, CCA will not file "Class Actions" on behalf of any client. The decision to participate in the "Class Action" is entirely up to the client and the collection of information necessary to participate in the "Class Action" must be coordinated by the client.

If "Class Action" documents are received by CCA on behalf of the Partnerships or the Conestoga Funds, CCA and/or the General Partner will ensure that the Fund either participate in, or opt out of, any class action settlements received. CCA will determine if it is in the best interest of the Fund to recover monies from a class action. The Portfolio Manager covering the company will determine the action to be taken when receiving class action notices. In the event CCA opts out of a class action settlement, CCA will maintain documentation of any cost/benefit analysis to support its decision.

Financial Information

CCA does not require or solicit prepayment of client fees six months or more in advance.

CCA has never filed for bankruptcy and is not aware of any financial condition that is expected to affect its ability to manage client accounts.

CONESTOGA CAPITAL ADVISORS, LLC

Proxy Voting

Introduction

Rule 206(4)-6 under the Advisers Act requires every investment adviser to adopt and implement written policies and procedures, reasonably designed to ensure that the adviser votes proxies in the best interest of its clients. The Rule further requires the adviser to provide a concise summary of the adviser's proxy voting process and offer to provide copies of the complete proxy voting policy and procedures to clients upon request. Lastly, the Rule requires that the adviser disclose to clients how they may obtain information on how the adviser voted their proxies.

CCA votes proxies for a great majority of its clients, and therefore has adopted and implemented this Proxy Voting Policy and Procedures. Any questions about this document should be directed to Alida Bakker-Castorano, CCA's Proxy Administrator.

Policy

It is the policy of CCA to vote client proxies in the interest of maximizing Shareholder Value. To that end, CCA will vote in a way that it believes, consistent with its fiduciary duty, will cause the value of the issue to increase the most or decline the least. Consideration will be given to both the short and long term implications of the proposal to be voted on when considering the optimal vote.

Any general or specific proxy voting guidelines provided by an advisory client or its designated agent in writing will supersede this policy. Clients may wish to have their proxies voted by an independent third party or other named fiduciary or agent, at the client's cost.

Procedures for Identification and Voting of Proxies

These proxy voting procedures are designed to enable CCA to resolve material conflicts of interest with clients before voting their proxies in the interest of shareholder value.

1. CCA shall maintain a list of all clients for which it votes proxies. The list will be maintained either in hard copy or electronically and updated by the Proxy Administrator who will obtain proxy voting information from client agreements.

As part of the account opening procedure, all new signed contracts or new account instructions must be sent to the Proxy Administrator no later than ten (10) days from the date a new account starts trading. Alternatively, The Client Services Manager, as part of the account opening procedure, will inform the Proxy Administrator that CCA will vote proxies for the new client.

2. CCA shall work with the client to ensure that CCA is the designated party to receive proxy voting materials from companies or intermediaries. To that end, new account forms of broker-dealers/custodians will state that CCA should receive this documentation. The designation may also be made by telephoning contacts and/or client service representatives at broker-dealers/custodians.

3. CCA uses Broadridge, a third-party proxy voting service provider, to assist in its proxy voting process. The Proxy Administrator will ensure that Broadridge receives proxy voting materials directly from the broker-dealers/custodians.
4. CCA Absent specific client instructions, the Proxy Administrator votes client proxies through Broadridge according to the Glass Lewis recommendations.

For any client who has provided specific voting instructions, the Proxy Administrator shall vote that client's proxy in accordance with the client's written instructions.

Proxies of clients who have selected their own third party to vote proxies, and whose proxies were received by CCA, shall be forwarded to the designee for voting and submission.

5. The Proxy Administrator will reasonably try to assess any material conflicts between CCA's interests and those of its clients with respect to proxy voting by considering the situations identified in the Conflicts of Interest section of this document.
6. So long as there are no material conflicts of interest identified, CCA will vote proxies according to the Glass Lewis recommendation. CCA may also elect to abstain from voting if it deems such abstinence in its clients' best interests. The rationale for "abstain" votes will be documented and the documentation will be maintained in the permanent file.
7. CCA is not required to vote every client proxy and such should not necessarily be construed as a violation of CCA's fiduciary obligations. CCA shall at no time ignore or neglect its proxy voting responsibilities. However, there may be times when refraining from voting is in the client's best interest, such as when an adviser's analysis of a particular client proxy reveals that the cost of voting the proxy may exceed the expected benefit to the client (i.e., casting a vote on a foreign security may require that the adviser engage a translator or travel to a foreign country to vote in person). Such position also complies with Interpretive Bulletin 94-2 of the DOL.
8. If the Proxy Administrator detects a conflict of interest, the following process will be followed:
 - a. The Proxy Administrator will, as soon as practicable, convene the Proxy Voting Committee (the "Committee"). Members of the Committee include persons listed on Attachments A, none of which directly reports to another member of the Committee. The Proxy Administrator will serve as the chairperson.
 - b. The Proxy Administrator, at inception of the Committee meeting, will appoint a Secretary, whose role it will be to keep careful and detailed minutes.
 - c. The Proxy Administrator will identify for the Committee the issuer and proposal to be considered. The Proxy Administrator will also identify the conflict of interest that has been detected. The Proxy Administrator will also identify the Glass Lewis recommendation and the vote he believes is in the interest of shareholder value and the reasons why.
 - d. The members of the Committee will then consider the proposal by reviewing the proxy voting materials and any additional documentation a member(s) feels necessary in determining the appropriate vote. Members of the Committee may wish to consider the following questions:

- Whether adoption of the proposal would have a positive or negative impact on the issuer's short term or long term value.
 - Whether the proposal itself is well framed and reasonable.
 - Whether implementation of the proposal would achieve the objectives sought in the proposal.
 - Whether the issues presented would best be handled through government or issuer-specific action.
- e. Upon the provision of a reasonable amount of time to consider the proposal, each member of the Committee will in turn announce to the Committee his decision on whether CCA will vote for or against the proposal. Members of the Committee are prohibited from abstaining for the Committee vote and are prohibited from recommending that CCA refrain from voting on the proposal, although "abstain" votes are permitted. The Secretary will record each member's vote and the rationale for his decision.
- f. After each member of the Committee has announced his vote, the Secretary will tally the votes. The tally will result in one of the following two decisions:
- If all members of the Committee have voted in the same direction on the proposal, all of CCA's proxies for that proposal will be voted in such direction. The Secretary will document the unanimous vote and all minutes will be maintained in the permanent file.
 - If a unanimous decision cannot be reached by the Committee, CCA will, at its expense, engage the services of an outside proxy voting service or consultant who will provide an independent recommendation on the direction in which CCA should vote on the proposal. The proxy voting service's or consultant's determination will be binding on CCA.
9. The Proxy Administrator shall collect and submit the proxy votes in a timely manner.
10. The Proxy Administrator will report any attempts by CCA's personnel to influence the voting of client proxies in a manner that is inconsistent with CCA's Policy. Such report shall be made to one of CCA's managing partners, or if the partner is the person attempting to influence the voting, then to CCA's outside counsel.
11. All proxy votes will be recorded and the following information will be maintained by the Proxy Administrator or Broadridge:
- The name of the issuer of the portfolio security;
 - The exchange ticker symbol of the portfolio security;
 - The Council on Uniform Securities Identification Procedures ("CUSIP") number for the portfolio security;
 - The shareholder meeting date;

- The number of shares CCA is voting on firm-wide;
- A brief identification of the matter voted on;
- Whether the matter was proposed by the issuer or by a security holder;
- Whether or not CCA cast its vote on the matter;
- How CCA cast its vote (e.g., for or against proposal, or abstain; for or withhold regarding election of directors);
- Whether CCA cast its vote with or against management; and
- Whether any client requested an alternative vote of its proxy.

In the event that CCA votes the same proxy in two directions, it shall maintain documentation to support its voting (this may occur if a client requires CCA to vote a certain way on an issue, while CCA deems it beneficial to vote in the opposite direction for its other clients) in the permanent file.

Conflicts of Interest

Although CCA has not currently identified any material conflicts of interest that would affect its proxy voting decisions, it is aware of the following potential conflicts that could exist in the future:

- Conflict: CCA retains an institutional client, or is in the process of retaining an institutional client that is affiliated with an issuer that is held in CCA's client portfolios. For example, CCA may be retained to manage CCA's pension fund. CCA is a public company and CCA client accounts hold shares of CCA. This type of relationship may influence CCA to vote with management on proxies to gain favor with management. Such favor may influence CCA's decision to continue its advisory relationship with CCA.
- Conflict: CCA retains a client, or is in the process of retaining a client that is an officer or director of an issuer that is held in CCA's client portfolios. The similar conflicts of interest exist in this relationship as discussed above.
- Conflict: CCA's employees maintain a personal and/or business relationship (not an advisory relationship) with issuers or individuals that serve as officers or directors of issuers. For example, the spouse of a CCA employee may be a high-level executive of an issuer that is held in CCA's client portfolios. The spouse could attempt to influence CCA to vote in favor of management.
- Conflict: CCA or an employee(s) personally owns a significant number of an issuer's securities that are also held in CCA's client portfolios. For any number of reasons, an employee(s) may seek to vote proxies in a different direction for his/her personal holdings than would otherwise be warranted by the proxy voting policy. The employee(s) could oppose voting the proxies according to the policy and successfully influence CCA to vote proxies in contradiction to the policy.
- Conflict: CCA or its affiliate has a financial interest in the outcome of a vote, such as when CCA receives distribution fees (i.e., Rule 12b-1 fees) from mutual funds that are maintained in client accounts and the proxy relates to an increase in 12b-1 fees.

Resolution: Upon the detection of a material conflict of interest, the procedure described under Item 8 of the Procedures for Identification and Voting of Proxies section above will be followed.

CCA realizes that due to the difficulty of predicting and identifying all material conflicts, it must rely on its employees to notify the Proxy Administrator of any material conflict that may impair CCA's ability to vote proxies in an objective manner. Upon such notification, the Proxy Administrator will notify the Chief Compliance of the conflict who will recommend an appropriate course of action.

In addition, the Proxy Administrator will report any attempts by others within CCA to influence the voting of client proxies in a manner that is inconsistent with the proxy voting policy. The Proxy Administrator should then report the attempt to the CCO or outside legal counsel.

The Proxy Administrator will, on an annual basis, report to the CCO all conflicts of interest that arise in connection with the performance of CCA's proxy-voting obligations (if any), and any conflicts of interest that have come to his attention (if any) by completing a memorandum. This information can lead to future amendments to this proxy voting policy and procedure.

Procedures for CCA's Receipt of Class Actions

CCA recognizes that as a fiduciary it has a duty to act with the highest obligation of good faith, loyalty, fair dealing and due care. When a recovery is achieved in a class action, investors who owned shares in the company subject to the action have the option to either: (1) opt out of the class action and pursue their own remedy; or (2) participate in the recovery achieved via the class action. Collecting the recovery involves the completion of a Proof of Claim form which is submitted to the Claims Administrator. After the Claims Administrator receives all Proof of Claims, it dispenses the money from the settlement fund to those persons and entities with valid claims.

If "Class Action" documents are received by CCA for a private client (i.e., separate managed account), CCA will forward such documents to the client to enable the client to file the "Class Action" at the client's discretion. The decision of whether to participate in the recovery or opt-out may be a legal one that CCA is not qualified to make for the client. Therefore CCA will not file "Class Actions" on behalf of any client.

If "Class Action" documents are received by CCA on behalf of the Small and SMid Cap Funds, CCA will ensure that the Funds either participate in, or opt out of, any class action settlements received. CCA will determine if it is in the best interest of the Funds to recover monies from a class action. The Portfolio Manager covering the company will determine the action to be taken when receiving class action notices. In the event CCA opts out of a class action settlement, CCA will maintain documentation of any cost/benefit analysis to support its decision.

Recordkeeping

CCA must maintain the documentation described in the following section for a period of not less than five (5) years, the first two (2) years at its principal place of business.

Client request to review proxy votes:

- Any request, whether written (including e-mail) or oral, received by any employee of CCA, must be promptly reported to the Proxy Administrator. All written requests must be retained in the permanent file.

- The Proxy Administrator will record the identity of the client, the date of the request, and the disposition (e.g., provided a written or oral response to client's request, referred to third party, not a proxy voting client, other dispositions, etc.) in a suitable place.
 - In order to facilitate the management of proxy voting record keeping process, and to facilitate dissemination of such proxy voting records to clients, the Proxy Administrator will distribute to any client requesting proxy voting information the complete proxy voting record of CCA for the period requested. Reports containing proxy information of only those issuers held by a certain client will not be created or distributed.
- Any report disseminated to a client(s) will contain the following legend:

"This report contains the full proxy voting record of Adviser CCA. If securities of a particular issuer were held in your account on the date of the shareholder meeting indicated, your proxy was voted in the direction indicated (absent your expressed written direction otherwise)."

- Furnish the information requested, free of charge, to the client within a reasonable time period (within 10 business days). Maintain a copy of the written record provided in response to client's written (including e-mail) or oral request. A copy of the written response should be attached and maintained with the client's written request, if applicable and maintained in the permanent file.
- Clients are permitted to request the proxy voting record for the 5 year period prior to their request.

Proxy Voting Policy and Procedures:

- Proxy Voting Policy and Procedures.

Proxy statements received regarding client securities:

- Upon receipt of a proxy, copy or print a sample of the proxy statement or card and maintain the copy in a central file along with a sample of the proxy solicitation instructions. Note: CCA is permitted to rely on proxy statements filed on the SEC's EDGAR system instead of keeping its own copies.

Proxy voting records:

- CCA Proxy Voting Record.
- Documents prepared or created by CCA that were material to making a decision on how to vote, or that memorialized the basis for the decision.
- Documentation or notes or any communications received from third parties, other industry analysts, third party service providers, company's management discussions, etc. that were material in the basis for the decision.

Disclosure

CCA will ensure that Part 2A of Form ADV is updated as necessary to reflect: (i) all material changes to the Proxy Voting Policy and Procedures; and (ii) regulatory requirements.

Proxy Solicitation

As a matter of practice, it is CCA's policy to not reveal or disclose to any client how CCA may have voted (or intends to vote) on a particular proxy until after such proxies have been counted at a shareholder's meeting. CCA will never disclose such information to unrelated third parties.

The Proxy Administrator is to be promptly informed of the receipt of any solicitation from any person to vote proxies on behalf of clients. At no time may any employee accept any remuneration in the solicitation of proxies. The Proxy Administrator shall handle all responses to such solicitations.
